

14 Exhibitions That'll Blow You Away This Summer

BY TABISH KHAN

Welcome to our pick of the best London exhibitions to see right now – get your Summer dose of culture. We've roughly split the list by London regions to make it easier to navigate.

Exhibitions in west London

Copyright Tate Photography (Matt Greenwood).

JOYFUL PAINTING: Colour explodes from the walls in this collection of big bold paintings that are a joy to behold. It's about time Frank Bowling got his dues and this Tate Britain show is the spotlight he so richly deserves. The man is a heavyweight of British painting and he's still going at the age of 85 – what a legend. It's not just gorgeous paintings; there are political themes here too, including works that tackle migration, homelessness and colonialism. Any fan of painting must visit this long overdue retrospective.

Frank Bowling at Tate Britain. Until 26 August. ★★★★★