Cary Liebowitz/Candyass: (bric-a-brac) is the parenthetical title of this wildly adolescent installation that lines the walls with college banners ("GO SADNESS," "LIFE SUCKS") and paves the floor with teddy bears, stacks of souvenir dinner plates, and welcome mats, all of them sporting profoundly sad and silly mottos. Somehow it works: the pathos of these mock-commodities can get to you. Through October 6, Stux Gallery, 155 Spring Street, 219-0010. (Levin)
