The following review of the past week or so presents a snapshot of the latest news in African American art and related culture:

APPOINTMENTS

Torkwase Dyson is the latest visiting artist at the Lunder Institute for American Art at Colby College in Waterville, Maine. Her appointment is concurrent with Nautical Dusk, an exhibition of new site-specific work on view at the Colby College Museum of Art (Oct. 4, 2018-Jan. 6, 2019). The institute has had three visiting artists, Dyson, poet Richard Blanco, and Theaster Gates, the inaugural visiting artist in 2017.
